Amy C. Watson, Ph.D.

Dr. Amy Watson is a Professor in the Helen Bader School of Social Welfare at The University of Wisconsin. Her research is focused on two main areas: mental health stigma and how those with mental disorders interact with the criminal justice system, with a primary focus on encounters with law enforcement and the Crisis Intervention Team (CIT) Model.

She's also interested in mental health courts, prison re-entry programs, and community-engaged mental health literacy programs. Her current work is looking at models to reduce/eliminate the role of law enforcement in mental health crisis response. Read more.
